Form 990, Part III, Line 4a - First Accomplishment

Found House-Interfaith Housing Network (FHIHN) provides emergency shelter and housing programs for homeless families. FHIHN programs are designed to break the cycle of homelessness. In 2021, FHIHN served 366 families comprised of 1,210 individuals, 59% of whom were children. 93% of families served in 2021 achieved stable housing and 88% of those families maintained their housing and did not return to homelessness within two years.

The Emergency Shelter program met the basic needs of 69 households in 2021.

Normal operations are provided with the help of more than 100 partner congregations providing overnight shelter sites and three daily meals at houses of worship located throughout the city of Cincinnati. During this time, the FHIHN Transportation program shuttled families between congregational host sites and the FHIHN day center. At the day center, families worked with staff to gain stable housing and income. Children's needs were addressed through the child enrichment program, which provided school and developmental support for 100 children. The Pet Program extended care to four-legged family members, allowing 126 pets to stay on-site or with fosters while their human families worked to attain housing.

From January - December, FHIHN operated its Emergency Shelter program from an extended-stay style hotel, where families could safely socially distance and quarantine, where needed. Case management and housing goals were implemented in the same way as in normal operations, but the use of congregational volunteers was limited, to ensure the health and safety for

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b - Second Accomplishment

Found House-Interfaith Housing Network (FHIHN) also offers community-based programs that help families maintain stability. In 2021, the Shelter Diversion program helped 46 families avoid homelessness through case management, housing placement and resources. Rapid Rehousing provided short-term case management and financial assistance for 48 families.

FHIHN's Youth Homelessness Demonstration Project served 30 families with a head of household between the ages of 18-24 with specialized case management and unique financial and physical supports to achieve stability. FHIHN's joint Transitional-Rapid Rehousing program served 48 families through its site-based and scattered-site approach to move families quickly from shelter into their own unit and provided enhanced supports around child development.

Permanent Supportive Housing provided case management and rental support for 46 families who have a member with a disability and a history of chronic homelessness, helping them to maintain their housing in the community. Aftercare services provided 73 families with extended case management following an emergency shelter stay and served as a safety-net for former guests facing temporary difficulties.
